

Teaching Philosophy

It could be said Guy was born to be a teacher. In his words he talks about the impact and influence teachers have had on him his whole life. In the submission on his Teaching & Learning Philosophy Guy says he wanted to emulate those teachers he admired. He interchanges teaching and learning alongside others as a practice he champions. Guy's beliefs and teaching philosophy at the front the class he breaks down in this this order:

Relationships, relationship, relationships

Choice is motivating

Feedback is a gift

Mistakes are critical for learning

High expectations are the best self-fulfilling prophecies

Experience is gold

Enjoyment enhance deep learning

This list of beliefs Guy states are his "most important"
